2022 primaries calendar

The 2022 elections are underway as primary candidates hit the trail and a handful of states finish finalizing their new district maps. Texas held its primary elections on March 1, kicking off the midterm primary season.

Primaries will stretch from now until September, when Massachusetts holds its primary elections on September 20. The only state that won't hold a primary election before Election Day is Louisiana, which has a majority-vote system.
